Bind the site to the end user

For Maintainer. If end users need to view the running status of an installed site, the Maintainer can directly bind the site to the end user account to reduce the operation procedure for the end users

1. Bind end user accounts

The binding steps are as follows

If you need to change the bound user, repeat the above operations and finally fill in a new account